Fr. Anthony's Reflection

I welcome you, dear friends, to this Sunday! Jesus' words to his disciples are rather hurtful, "The Son of Man is to be handed over to men and they will kill him, and three days after death the Son of Man will rise."

I can't imagine what it felt like hearing these words for the first time. The most striking word from this text is 'death'! Jesus' foretelling about his upcoming death to his disciples was done in preparation to help them know and understand the truth. Although the message was too hard for them to grasp, they couldn't even begin to ask him!

Jesus had just prophesied about his own betrayal and crucifixion and this didn't even shock them! Instead they were more engulfed in the most petty discussions about who was the greatest and the ambitions in their minds. At this moment, Jesus takes the opportunity to tune their minds up to his expectations when he suddenly embraced a child to show to his disciples exactly who was the greatest in the kingdom of God.

It is the one like a child, the one who is humble and lowly of heart who is the greatest. Jesus himself is the model of this kind of person. He came not to be served but to serve and that is the example he wants his disciples to take.

As human beings, the appetite for greatness and glory is very much engrained in us. Who doesn't desire to be great? As long as we are human we do, the only difference is that when we get to greatness as Christians, we must remain humble. We must be able to tame those ambitions because they can cause us to sin.

May we always humble ourselves and empty ourselves of all that is not godly and only then will God fill us with his own glory. Amen.

Prayer List:

Thank you for those that continue to offer prayers for loved ones in need. Our list has grown exponentially and now that we have so many sick people to keep in our prayers, we would like to remind everyone that we have a parish book of intercessions, located in the commons. We encourage you to utilize this book and know that we as a parish pray for all the intentions listed in that book every Mass. Let us continue to use the power of prayer to help our loved ones in times of need and all the time. We will continue adding names of people in need of prayer on this prayer list for a maximum of 3 months in order to keep names circulating.

Individual meals: tuna snack kits, pop-top soup/pasta

Spiritual Adoption

Spiritual Adoption – Thank you to all who pledged. Currently 120 innocent unborn babies are being prayed for! So many more need our prayers. Please consider “spiritually adopting” an unborn child and share the love for life that God has given you. Prayer pledge cards, more information and resources are available at our Mary Mother with Child display in the Commons. We provide monthly updates and resources to assist you with your prayer pledge. If you would like more information, please contact justiceandpeace@stmark-parish.org

Month One- Your Developing Baby: Your spiritually adopted baby has been quite active over the past month. Already, your baby is 10,000 times bigger than at conception. Your baby has developed the foundations of their brain, spinal cord, and nervous system by the 20th day. Their heart began to beat on the 21st day, pumping blood through their own circulatory system and the blood type can be different from their mother’s. Your baby is most vulnerable during the next month of being aborted. Pray that the Lord of life might move the heart of their mother to give them the most precious gift of all- the gift of life.

Poverty is one of the largest contributors to human trafficking. Those suffering from poverty are purposely targeted by traffickers as a means of exploitation. It can drive people to become traffickers; it can drive parents to sell children or other family members into slavery. People in poverty are targeted by traffickers, who offer them a way to earn money when, in fact, they will earn nothing and be treated as a slave. Poverty also plays a large piece in many of the other root causes of trafficking, driving people to migrate, making education and legitimate work difficult to obtain, making recovery and safety from war and disaster impossible, and more. ## Interested In Learning More About The Catholic Faith? Or Becoming Catholic?

The Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults or RCIA is a process to learn and grow in the Catholic Christian Faith. It begins with Inquiry, where you come to ask questions and determine if this is right for you. It is open to those who have never been Baptized or are coming from a different Christian Faith experience or not fully formed in the Catholic Faith. Formation sessions are conducted on Monday evenings, starting at 7:15pm. If you are interested please contact Deacon Mike Johnson at 479-1010 or deacon\_mike@stmark-parish.org

Examples of Faith Form Youth

This weekend we celebrate Catechetical Sunday! It is a Sunday where Catechists are blessed as they prepare to begin the Religious Formation Year. But let us not forget the first teachers of the faith in a child's life - the parents! So we offer this reflection below. Also a reminder to register for Religious Formation Sessions which begin next Sunday!

"Catholic parents and grandparents everywhere wonder how to hand on the faith they have received. When a child is baptized, the parents promise to bring them up in the practice of the faith. But how?

Interestingly, the social sciences tell us what parents have known for generations: actions speak louder than words. Researchers at the National Study of Youth and Religion (directed by Professor Christian Smith at the University of Notre Dame) tell us that the strongest determining factor in the faith practice of teens and young adults is the faith practice of their parents.

As we think about why this is the case, it may be helpful to consider the word practice. When we hear it in a religious context we think "Joe is a practicing Catholic" or "My cousin Ed was raised Catholic, but he no longer practices." In this context, we might think about the word practice in the way that someone practices the cello.

Being Catholic is much more than a skill. It is a gift and an identity as a child of God. Even so, what if, as we think about forming children in the faith, we think about them as practicing being Catholic, that they might acquire the skills they need to live in the freedom of the children of God? How can they acquire those skills? They look to their first teachers as models of how they are to live.

This is one reason it is important to bring young children to Mass. The child under six is in a period of development that is marked by imitation. By watching parents, grandparents, and other significant adults, they learn when to sit, kneel, and stand. They learn to make the Sign of the Cross. They learn the responses even before they know the meanings of the words. At home they learn to say grace, to pray at bedtime, to say the Rosary.

When children grow older, they hunger for role models. It is good for them to see lots of examples of what mature faith looks like while they are in this stage because eventually they will need to discern what mature faith looks like for them. We only have to look at the variety of the saints to see that the path of discipleship is not monolithic. In offering them relationships with other adults who live out their faith on the soup line, in parish ministry, and by bringing the values of the Gospel into the world, we show them what is possible in their lives.

Ultimately, our example as parents will have the greatest impact. If you want to raise children in the practice of the faith, show them what it looks like. Take them to Mass. Pray in front of them, pray with them, pray for them. Feed the hungry. Forgive and then forgive again. Pope Francis says the family is a school of mercy. Go to Reconciliation. Read the Bible. When you see God at work in your life, tell your children. You may find that your example is more powerful than you expect."
